

Complete Music's DJ Profile

LIZ THORINGTON

Hi My name is Liz, I am always about having a good time. I make sure that everyone is having lots and lots of fun. But the most important thing to me is to make that my bride and groom are all smiles and have everlasting memories of there wedding reception.

How do you make sure the hosts are enjoying the performance?

Communication before, during and after the event is key. I always discuss my client's plans in detail the week of their event, and then check with them several times throughout the night to make sure everything is going according to their plans and to help when and if they decide to change things up.

What type of personality do you have?

Generally, I am very outgoing and I love interacting with people. I am flexible and able to fine tune my personality according to the situation and my audience. I know when a situation calls for a more fun and extroverted personality, as well as when to be more subdued and professional, and let the music do the work.
